Having a strong emphasis on both timely delivery and accurate budgeting on every project and accomplishing these objectives through comprehensive pre-construction planning with a proven approach enables us to consistently deliver high quality projects.

- Ar. Donato B. Magcale, uap

The best way to understand the value we bring to construction projects is to speak to our clients and business partners.

- Ar. Bong Regala, fuap

The project's success has something to do with your team's care, efforts, and professionalism.

- Ar. Ramon Mendoza, fuap (UAP National President)

Architects of the UAP have been successful in their own career that enable them to practice their professionalism in every projects. Being the Principal Architects of their own businesses, they know that communication and proper planning are the most important in construction phase. Open communication and consistently updating the parties involved in the construction project is a must to minimize disruption to ongoing operations.

✓ Understand the importance of making decision and consider every assignment is an opportunity to build not just an exceptional facility, but also a new and lasting relationship with the client.
